War Stocks Decline from One to More Than Seven Points.

TRADING IS IRREGULAR

Motor Securities Share in Downward Movement and Steel Common Proves Disappointing.

New York, Nov. 6.—The stock market continued reactionary today owing to professional selling and week-end closing-out contracts. Heaviness was most pronounced in the war stocks which declined from one to more than seven points, the maximum loss being in New York Air Brake.

Irregularity prevailed at the opening, fractional losses and gains being distributed throughout the list. Dealings were largely professional. Copper shares were strong, with Anaconda and Utah the favorites of this group. After the first fifteen minutes of trading the buying became exhausted and floor traders were quick to offer shares at concessions. Motor stocks scored substantial losses in the downward movement which continued up to within a short time before the close. A firmer tone developed shortly before the end of trading, but the close saw prices near the lowest.

issues that possess merit and may have been overlooked. In the recent advance in their searches brokers have gone over the issues and listed New York Stock Exchange although seldom dealt in here. It is learned that a certain progressive firm will this week attempt to create an active market here in a stock which is listed on the New York Stock Exchange, but whose market has heretofore been in Boston. It will be remembered that few New York stock market speculators. few New York stock market speculators knew that Crucible Steel was in excess before New York interests bought some of the stock from Pittsburgh and made a market for the shares on the New York exchange. This has also occurred in quite a few other issues, The bond market continued strong.

Merchants, Bankers, Borrowers, and Investors Benefited-Big Holiday Trade Is Certain. By CUNO H. RUDOLPH.

President Second National Bank. Retail merchants reported very much better business this week than last. While the increase in sales was due somewhat to its being the first of the month, yet there is a general tendency toward improvement Merchants are optimistic about the season, and believe they will have satisfactory holiday sales. It was an exceedingly busy week for bankers. Deposits were increased, therefore money became easier. While, the bond exchange was open only five days during the week, yet an im-provement in business was shown. This is satisfactory, as it shows people are seeking substantial investment and that money held out formerly is being brought into use again. There was an abundance of money to be had at reasonable rates. The financial market is much easier than it was during the summer, which

Although it is thought that this Democratic administration has no doubt made a great mistake in its treatment of its colored friends, in its failure to reduce the high cost of living, etc., yet the Republicans, if they be wise, will make no mistakes. Why has not Mr. Hills recognized any of the colored leaders in his recent "get-together" councils? Does he mean this step to be a slur and defy to mean this step to be a slur and defy to
